Enterprise Defeats Elba 20-0 Friday

The powerful Enterprise Wildcats defeated the Elba Tigers by a score of 20-0 last Friday night in Enterprise.

The cats started the game with a razzle-dazzle hand-off kick off return and followed with a 49 yard pass completion to set up the first score minutes after the game opened. The Tigers held the Enterprise team away from the goal line for the rest of the first half and until the last minutes of the game it looked as if the Elba Tigers would break loose and defeat the mighty Enterprise eleven.

Another Elba Quarterback, Johnny Sharpless, joined Quarterback Joel Martin on the injured list this week. Sharpless received injuries to the rib section in the Enterprise game and Freshman Donnie Holley took over the quarterbacking chores during practice this week. Elba journeys to Samson this week and will return to Elba the next week to face Geneva.

Postmaster 'Spells Out' GI Christmas Mailing Rules

Elba Postmaster Robert Cooper has announced the following timetable for mailing Christmas parcels to members of the Armed Forces overseas:

(1) Surface Transportation—October 16 to November 15;
(2) Space available (SAM)—October 21 to December 1;
(3) Airmail—December 1 to December 15.

All articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fibreglass, or strong double faced corrugated fibreboard. All fibreboard boxes should be securely wrapped in heavy paper which materially strengthens the package. Each box should be tied with strong cord. Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package. Matches of all kinds and lighter fluid may not be mailed to overseas military addressees.

Some destinations require customs declaration showing itemized list of contents and value. In addition to articles normally prohibited in the mail, matches of all kinds and lighter fluid may not be mailed to overseas military addressees.

Addresses should be legible and complete, and should be prepared by typewriter or pen and ink. Addresses should appear only on one side of parcel. For any information on mailing of parcels please call 897-2400 and any one will be pleased to help.

Andrews served as plant manager of Elba Apparel, Inc. He replaces J. Richard Wilson Jr. who resigned to accept a college teaching position this fall.

A native of Opp, Andrews was graduated from Auburn University in 1964 with a BS degree in business administration. His wife, the former Linda Messick, is a former teacher at Andalusia High School. The Andrews have a three-month old daughter.

Andrews will be in charge of employee relations, public relations and other duties for Alabama Electric. Alabama Electric is a cooperative owned and operated by 25 distributive cooperative cities and industries in South Alabama and Northeast Florida. It generates and transmits wholesale electric power.

Glenn D. Bedsole, named to Dean's List

Two hundred and forty-two students in the University of Alabama made records of between 2.5 (B plus) and 3.0 (A), the Dean of Admissions, Hubert E. Mate, announced. Of these, 57 made all A's.

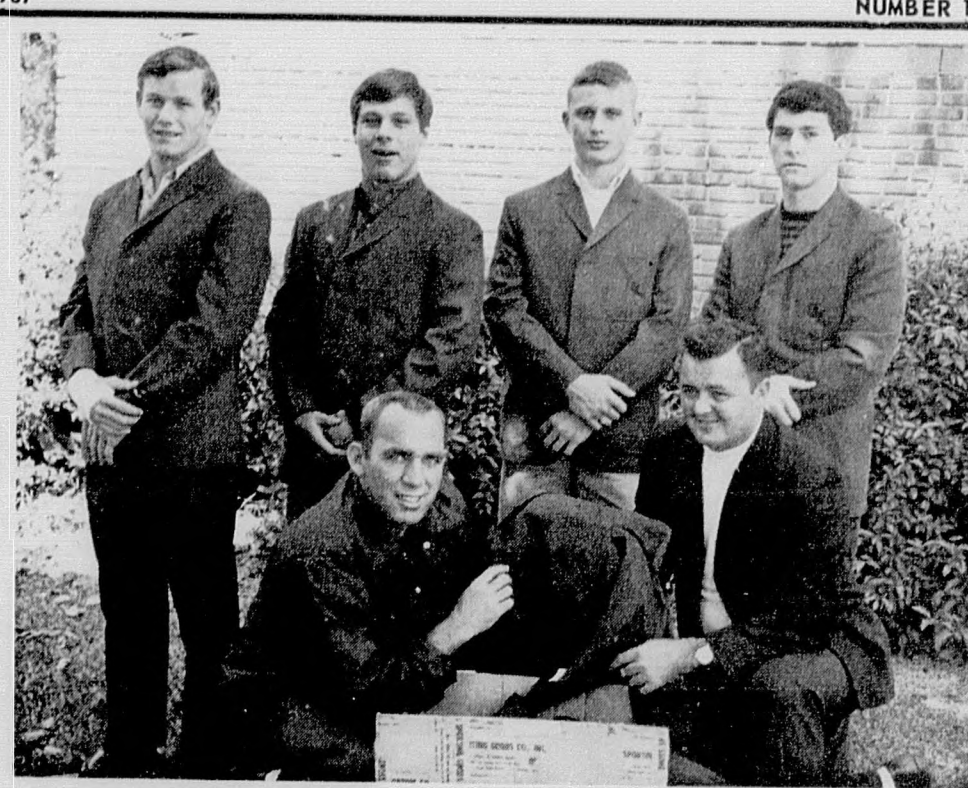

The area listing by county shows two from Coffee County. They are: Elba; Glenn D. Bedsole, Arts and Sciences, All A's; Kinston; Jerry A. Wise, Arts and Sciences.

Striped Bass Stocked in Lake Martin

Conservation Director Claude D. Kelley announced this week that the Conservation Department's Division of Game and Fish stocked "several thousand more striped bass in Lake Martin in an attempt to 'land lock' the anadromous species."

Kelley said the stocking took place in the upper reaches of Lake Martin near where U. S. Highway 280 crosses the lake east of Alexander City.

Charles Kelley, Chief of the Game and Fish Division, said the striped bass for the stocking were acquired as "fry" in South Carolina and flowered in the Alabama State Fish Hatchery at Eastaboga where they were raised to stocking size.

NEW BLAZERS FOR THE TEAM The Elba Quarterback Club has purchased new gold blazers for the Elba High Athletic Department. These nice coats have ELBA written across the pocket in black. Head Coach Leon Akins, kneeling left, and Quarterback A. C. (Buddy) Brunson are shown unpacking the new coats while four of the Elba Tigers try them on for size. The Tiger players are from left: Jerome Ward, Leavy Boutwell, Donnie Holley and David Stokes. The blazers will be worn by the football, basketball, track and any other athletic team representing Elba High School and will remain in the property of the school.

County Car Tag Sales Lagging

County officials are showing increasing concern over the lack of interest in purchasing 1968 motor vehicle tags.

The Tax Assessor, Tax Collector and Probate Judge indicate that they will handle the rush the best they can but will not be able to handle everyone at the last minute regardless of how long the lines get. Note: a person can just walk in and get a tag any time of the day, NOW!

The truck tags have not yet arrived in Coffee County but a truck owner can assess his truck now and avoid a penalty for being late even if he can't get a tag until November.

Donaldson reports that a third of the tag buying time has elapsed and less than one-fifth of the cars and trucks have been assessed.

There will be an organizational Scout meeting at the City Recreation building on Tuesday at 6 p.m. The meeting is sponsored by the Elba Lions Club and the Jaycees.

This meeting is to reorganize the local Boy Scout Troop that has lapsed in recent years. The boys will be fed a supper of hot dogs and soft drinks with a cookie for the ones with the sweet tooth.

Probate Judge J. O. English reminds merchants that October 31 is the deadline for buying privilege license without paying a penalty. English also says that it will speed up the process to have the old license with you.

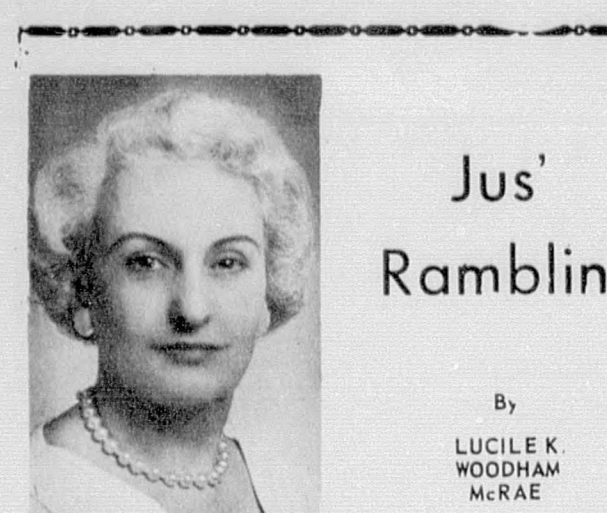

Memorial Sing Planned in Troy

The 3rd Annual W.M. Cooper Memorial Singing will be held at Beulah Primitive Church on South 3-Notch Street in Troy on November 5th. All singers are expected to observe the two main rules he taught in his singing school: Sing according to time, and do not sing Alto in a loud harsh tone.

Singers are requested to bring a picnic lunch. Everyone is invited.

MAKING PLANS - These Coffee County Hog Association officers are busy making last minute plans for an educational tour of swine operations in Alabama. From left, seated, J. R. Speed, Extension farm agent; Robert English of Elba, Rt. 3, president; M. C. Wilks of Jack, Rt. 1, vice president; and Rufus R. Wilson of Troy, Rt. 2, secretary-treasurer.

WOODHAM
McRAE

MACK and I were guests of Troy State College Saturday night for the ball game. The Troy Red Waves and Jacksonville State band did the most impressive job I have ever seen. A band of more perfection. I thoroughly enjoyed their performance.

A CALIFORNIA newspaper had an editorial recently which we are quoting. "Now who are we, in our income and our investments, on our land and our property, not only for base creatures who do not deserve the name of men, but for foreign nations, for communist nations who will bow to us and accept our largesse and promise to assist us in the keeping of the peace - these mendacious nations who will destroy us when we show a moment of weakness or our treasury is bare, and surely it is becoming bare. . . . Now who was it said that? Must have been some member of the U.S. Senate for it fits exactly what has been going on in Washington. The orator was Cleo of ancient Rome - the Rome that fell as a result of corruption at home and over-extension abroad."

IT IS HARD to get down to everyday subjects when we are involved. I have been in Vietnam. Thousands of Americans have given their lives there and continue dying every day. I read an article written by a reporter who was in the scene in Vietnam and it was plainly giving all the horror of the war. The article was titled "Last night I broke down and cried" brought the reality of the horror of the war right to our door.

Some say such reports should not be made because of what it does to those who have lost loved ones that war and it is true that though most realize that their loved one had to have died a horrible death it knows that it is harder just knowing by reading the reports of the war in Vietnam.

Apparently it is a war we must be concerned with but it does look like a hopeless war to some of us but I don't think many of us would go so far as to be a member of the anti-draft crowd, who are making such a to-do by demonstrations and such. In the article written by the above mentioned reporter he saw teen-agers with long hair and dirty clothes protesting the war in Vietnam and members of the anti-draft group. After seeing teenagers dying in Vietnam for our country and then seeing teen-agers protesting he couldn't help telling them they should be "red-baited" where the REAL people are.

BECAUSE of the intense interest in the Vietnam war today I am taking the privilege of quoting recent articles from the Industrial News Review that

There seems little question but that stability of U. S. policies through and beyond the election would do much to demonstrate the permanency of U. S. determination. Mr. Reischauer suggests that of settlement . . . would give the Viet Cong a tolerable alternative to an apparently endless war. By whatever means prove most appropriate as the future unfolds, the primary mission of the new Administration, be it Republican or Democratic, will most probably be to bring the war in Viet Nam to an honorable conclusion. What is done between now and election time 1968 will have much to do with determining the success of that mission.

SPENDING BRAKES NEEDED The proposed surcharge on corporate and personal income is supposed to be a temporary measure needed largely to finance the cost of the war in Viet Nam. But, there have been temporary taxes enacted before, and a good share of them are still with us. If the rapid expansion in the size and cost of government now under way is not checked, any tax boost made will have little effect on budget deficits or the course of inflation. Both will remain with us to undermine the economic stability of the country, and deplete the income and the savings of the people. It is time to reconsider the fiscal policy. In the final analysis, it must be recognized that governments have few limitations on their ability to spend.

THIS YEAR the week of October 15 through October 22 was the observance of the National Bible Week, 1967. The theme of the occasion is "The Bible: Good News for Modern Man." Vice-Admiral William W. Smith, Jr., national chairman of an interfaith program for encouraging use of the Bible as a source of strength and inspiration, said: "The Bible is a source of strength and inspiration to the peoples of the world and their leaders representing the Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, and other faiths. It is the source of the forces of evil." The Bible is a source of strength and inspiration to the peoples of the world and their leaders representing the Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, and other faiths. It is the source of the forces of evil.

The alternatives to this course, which now divide the country and the Congress at large, are the course of the United States. The Lord demonstrated the meaning of these values and the strength of faith during the years of his ministry. The story lies within the pages of the Bible available to each of us as an individual source of inspiration, guidance, and strength. Let each of us make this observance of Bible Week a time for realization that this Book still carries within its pages the only light that can show man the way to live in peace with his neighbors. It is the light of life itself that none of us can do without.

WHO'S CAUSING THE RIOTS

The legal loophole that for years protected crooked promoters who use man advertising to get money through fraud and false representation may soon be closed, as the result of recent action by the House of Representatives.

By a vote of 353 to 32, the House passed a bill which will allow the Postmaster General to administratively issue a mail stop order without proof of "intent to deceive." These stop orders are issued to protect the unsuspecting public, and especially the elderly and the sick, from being swindled through false representations by promoters using the U.S. mails.

Under the present law, the Postmaster General can only issue a mail stop order when he finds that the crook is conducting a scheme to get money or property through the mail by means of "false and fraudulent pretenses, or promises." Lawyers know that trying to prove somebody's "intent" is generally hard to do and sometimes impossible, and while postal officials spend a lot of time trying to find evidence supporting "intent to deceive" charges, the crook walks through the loophole a free man, and continues to make

I voted for this bill, because I think that the American people have to pay enough taxes without losing their money in fly-by-night insurance companies, crooked junk mail real estate schemes, phony medical cures, and the host of other charlatan business operating at the convenience of the Post Office. All of us have a right to rely on the integrity of the U.S. mails.

Educational Assistance Available To Veterans

Both Viet-Nam and Cold War veterans can receive G.I. Bill educational help 31, 1955. One month of VA educational assistance is authorized for each month of service up to a limit of 36 months.

The new benefit applies to those veterans who have received a high school diploma or its equivalent at the time... of discharge from active duty... and those who need "additional secondary school training, either refresher courses or deficiency courses to qualify for admission to an appropriate educational institution."

Smart said that eligible veterans who took pre-college training between June 1, 1966, and October 1, 1967, will have their original eligibility for college training restored. Applications for educational assistance and for the reinstatement of eligibility can be made at any VA office.

Single veterans can receive $10 per month while attending full-time programs at either high school or preparatory school level. Veterans with one dependent receive $155, and those with two dependents $175 per month. PRESCRIPTION PROFITS ARE NOT A SECRET

In 1966 their average selling price was $3.48. The average cost to the pharmacy for ingredients and container was $1.08 each. The pharmacy's fee for filling all prescriptions averaged $1.80 and from this it pays ALL expenses such as rent, salaries, deliveries, etc. Only what is left over is the profit.

Reliable statistics also show the average profit per pharmacy before taxes is under 6%. A haircut, which has no deliveries, ingredients, or inventory, costs about $2.00. Can someone explain to pharmacists why some people are criticizing their prescription prices?

Psychiatry--- Know When To Seek Help

How does one know when he should consult a psychiatrist? Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, reports that most people who should consult a psychiatrist are likely to consider themselves as someone not seeking his services.

Many shun the psychiatrist, the AMA says, because they have the distorted concept that people who are under psychiatric care are "crazy."

Psychiatrists are physicians with a special training through which they are able to help people with mental illness or emotional problems, even as other physicians.

Depression, or what we call the blues, is frequently an early sign of what can become a disabling mental illness. Likewise, excitement and overactivity, although often completely normal, form an abnormal sign when they occur in the wrong place or for the wrong reason.

Other suggestive symptoms include nervousness and exaggerated expressions of anger, hysterical attacks, unfounded fear, and guilt. Consultation with your physician is advised if you have any of these symptoms.

Private Joseph R. Taylor, 21, son of Mrs. Minnie R. Taylor, Brantley, Alabama, completed reconnaissance training Sept. 29 at the Army Armor Center, Fort Knox, Kentucky.

He received eight weeks of training in the methods of scouting and patrolling, and with emphasis on the operation of Army jeeps on rugged terrain, instruction was also given in camouflage techniques, concealment in natural terrain and handling of weapons.

His father, Z. J. Taylor, lives on Route 3, Brantley, Alabama.

Wildlife Specialist Issues Rules For Hunting Safety

Some things just naturally go together. Like autumn and the hunting season. And Earl Kenamer and hunting warnings.

Each year, Kenamer, who is Auburn University Extension Service Wildlife Specialist, issues 14 rules for hunting safety.

"If every hunter would follow these simple rules," says Kenamer, "we wouldn't see many new graveside markers for hunting victims."

Here are Kenamer's rules: 1. Treat every gun, even if you think it's unloaded, as though it were a primed stick of dynamite.

2. Never carry a loaded gun into an automobile, camp or house.

3. Before loading, make sure the gun barrel is free of any obstruction.

4. Carry guns in such a way that you can control the direction of the muzzle, in case you happen to stumble.

5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

6. Never point a gun at another person unless you intend to kill him.

7. Unload all unwanted guns.

8. Don't climb trees or cross fences with loaded guns.

9. Never shoot at water or other flat, hard surfaces.

10. Never mix gunpowder and alcohol.

11. Check your background well before you shoot.

12. Don't "mix" cartridges.

13. Don't fire a gun that isn't in sound condition.

14. Always store ammunition and guns so that children and inexperienced persons can't get to them.

The Church for all... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in making the building of character and good citizenship. It is a house of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, our democracy is in jeopardy. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For the sake of his own soul. (2) For the sake of his family and community. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

University

Professor Sees Changing Trends

If Alabama is to make a smooth transition to an urban society, the current idea of metropolitan center with satellite cities must be eliminated, a University of Alabama professor believes.

Dr. Walter R. Koch, associate professor of geography, is doing research on the urbanization development in Alabama. His theory is that the population shift from rural to urban areas has resulted in a duplication of services on the part of city and county governments. For example, he pointed out that Birmingham and Jefferson County could reduce government costs some 30 to 40 per cent if they would unite. "Their equipment could be purchased under one order and such coordination as a central radio station for police cars could greatly increase efficiency," he said.

Fluoride Can Reduce Tooth Decay In Children

"Less tooth decay among young people and greatly reduced costs for dental care are what a community can expect to result from fluoridating its public water supply," announced Assistant Surgeon General Dr. Viron L. Dieffenbach, director, Division of Dental Health, U.S. Public Health Service.

Dieffenbach pointed out that the impact of fluoridation on dental care costs was dramatically illustrated in the summer 1966 Head Start programs in which the average cost per child patient of $26.35 and $27.77 respectively. The average cost per child was highest in the non-fluoridated communities of San Joaquin and Berkeley, where it was $85.85 and $70.01 respectively.

The benefits of fluoridation are life-long assets. The reduction in dental needs and its significant impact upon the costs necessary to achieve good oral health for children are of great importance for all those interested in the health of the nation," Dr. Dieffenbach concluded.

Charles Kelley, Chief of the Game and Fish Division, said these new public hunting areas have been acquired to improve the quality and quantity of public hunting areas in the state. He said special efforts will be made to improve both the large and small game populations in these new areas.

He said these new management areas are another in a series of "cooper" active efforts between private landowners and the Conservation Department to provide more quality hunting.

Conservation Director Claude D. Kelley announced that the Conservation Department has entered into a long term lease of 36,400 acres of hunting land for two additional game management areas.

The two areas containing about 8,000 acres each are the Cahaba Management Area in Bibb County and the Little River Management Area in DeKalb and Cherokee Counties.

Burned Out

Mill Not To Rebuild

According to Mr. J. A. Galtimore, manager of

Flack Lumber Company

here in Elba, whose sawmill burned October 5, the mill will not be rebuilt.

A new modern mill with modern machinery would cost one-half million dollars and would not be justified, stated Galtimore.

The fire destroying the mill was caused by electric wiring or motors, it is believed. Damage was estimated at approximately one-quarter million dollars with partial insurance.

The pulpwood yard will continue to operate under least to Great Northern

Paper Company of Cedar

Springs, Georgia.

The planer mill will operate until all lumber on the yard has been disposed of, according to Galtimore.

The company will continue to buy pulpwood and Galtimore will continue as manager. He has been with the Flack Lumber Company

twenty-two years. The company operated in Elba

for the past twenty-three years.

730 To Answer Draft Call

Director Hugh J. Caldwell, Jr., said today that 730 young Alabama men will be called to the induction station in November, to fill a Selective Service call for 511.

The October Alabama

induction call was for only 388 men, or 123 fewer than in November.

The nation's draft quota for November is 22,000 men, compared to 17,000 in October.

Caldwell said that in Alabama, some married men will be included in the November figure of 511.

However, no fathers will be drafted. The call will be composed of registrants

19 years of age or older,

in Class I-A, and I-A-O, examined and acceptable.

County-by-county, the call includes six from Coffee

County.

The nation will return to Central Standard Time

Sunday (Oct. 29) at 2 a.m.

To accomplish the switch,

clocks are to be set back one hour.

In other word re-set your clocks before going to bed Saturday night, Sunday morning everyone will be back on Central Standard

Time instead of Daylight

Saving Time, as has been observed since late spring.

Fort Rucker announces

the change in the clocks but calls attention to the fact that the time change has no effect on duty hours, mobile houses and utility trucks, which has been moved back 7:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m., weekdays, and 7:30 a.m. to 4:15
